Bipartisan Coalition Finally Tells Europe, and the FBI, To Shove It - LewRockwell.pdf

[https://www.lewrockwell.com/2025/02/no_author/bipartisan-coalition-finally-tells-europe-and-the-fbi-to-shove-it/]

Key Takeaways:

A bipartisan coalition is taking a stand against European and FBI overreach regarding encryption¹.

The UK has demanded that Apple create a backdoor to access all user data stored on its cloud¹.

The UK's Investigatory Powers Act of 2016, also known as the Snoopers' Charter, mandates that companies provide assistance and makes it a criminal offense to reveal such demands².

The encryption saga dates back to the San Bernardino shooting in 2015 when the FBI tried to force Apple to unlock the shooter's iPhone³.

The British have been using their surveillance tools extensively, as seen in the Twitter Files, where they requested data on soccer fans⁴.

US officials have been seeking similar authority to the UK, with Attorney General William Barr expressing frustration over negotiations with tech companies in 2019⁵.

Barr alluded to a potential "major incident" that could sway public opinion on the issue, referencing the Investigatory Powers Act⁶.

The unified front against encryption is significant, especially considering the political climate during the Trump era³.

Key words:

Encryption: The FBI was trying to force Apple to undo its encryption safeguards, ostensibly to unlock the iPhone of accused San Bernardino shooter Syed Rizwan Farook³.

Investigatory Powers Act: The Home Secretary has served Apple with... a technical capability notice, ordering it to provide access under the sweeping U.K. Investigatory Powers Act of 2016, which authorizes law enforcement to compel assistance from companies².

Snoopers' Charter: The law, known by critics as the Snoopers' Charter, makes it a criminal offense to reveal that the government has even made such a demand².

Bipartisan: There has not been much political room to take a stand like the one Wyden, Biggs, and perhaps Gabbard will be making³.

Surveillance: The Twitter Files were full of loony "IPA" dramas that underscored just how terrifying these laws can be⁴.

Britain is heading for a deep, long recession – The Expose.pdf

[<https://expose-news.com/2025/02/24/britain-is-heading-for-a-deep-long-recession/>]

Key Takeaways:

Britain is facing a deep, long recession due to factors such as four-day work weeks, work-from-home policies, and declining productivity⁷.

Labour MPs support these policies, which are exacerbating the economic situation⁸.

The UK is now poorer per capita than all 50 US states⁹.

The British Government employs a "money tsar" who works one day a week for a substantial salary¹⁰.

The UK's public sector bill is approximately £250 billion a year¹¹.

Pay rises for civil servants have added £9 billion to the wage bill, straining future tax income¹¹.

The UK has more restrictions limiting peaceful protest than any other country in the free world¹².

The destruction of farms and farmers is allegedly a deliberate policy¹².

There are concerns about censorship of information reported by The Exposé⁸.

Key words:

Recession: It is no wonder that Britain is heading for a deep, long recession⁷.

Productivity: Four-day working weeks, work-from-home policies, inflation-busting pay increases and 500,000 more civil servants since last year – but productivity is down⁷.

Civil Servants: Britain is sinking under the weight of its massed civil servants¹¹.

Censorship: Your Government and Big Tech are actively trying to censor the information reported by The Exposé to serve their own needs⁸.

Protest: "The UK has now more draconian restrictions limiting peaceful protest than any other country in the free world¹².

By Drones, Mines and Missiles - The British Naval War Against Russia in Ukraine - LewRockwell.pdf

[https://www.lewrockwell.com/2025/02/no_author/by-drones-mines-and-missiles-the-british-naval-war-against-russia-in-ukraine/]

Key Takeaways:

British-made seagoing drones have attacked Russian transports and the Kerch Bridge¹³.

Several ships have been sunk or damaged by limpet mines after visiting Russian ports¹⁴.

This campaign aims to deter ship owners and operators from servicing Russian interests¹⁴.

New uncrewed maritime systems, Snapper and Wasp, have been rapidly developed to support Ukraine¹⁵.

Key words:

Drones: British intelligence seagoing drones made in Britain, attacked Russian transports as well as the Kerch Bridge¹³.

Limpet Mines: Those are five ships so far that have been sunk or damaged by limpet mines attached to the ships after they had visited Russian ports¹⁴.

Uncrewed maritime systems: Both Snapper and Wasp are “new uncrewed maritime system[s], which [have] been rapidly developed specifically to support Ukraine¹⁵.

GRU: I doubt that the Ukrainian military intelligence, the GRU under the terrorist General Budanov, has the network and divers needed to attack Russia related¹⁴.

China_ From real Tao to Mao, and then to multipolar fake Tao.pdf

[<https://thepredatorsversusthepeople.substack.com/p/china-from-real-tao-to-mao-and-then>]

Key Takeaways:

China's incorporation into the global power structure was manipulated by the "Global Mafia" (Glafia)¹⁶.

Asia, especially China, was dominant in the world economy and technology until the early 1800s¹⁷.

Japan was corrupted by British and American influence to serve as a battering ram against China and Russia¹⁸.

Wall Street financed Sun Yat-sen's overthrow of China's Qing dynasty in 1912¹⁸.

Communism was a Glafia project to suppress China and Russia¹⁹.

Post-WWII de-colonization was a Glafia-planned strategy to create dependent proxies²⁰.

Countries are used as "pieces on a chessboard" by a single player²¹.

The world capitalist system has developed in four cycles, each led by a temporary hegemon: Spain, Holland, England, and the United States²¹....

China and Russia will be the new "horses pulling Glafia's chariot"²³.

China suppressed its people with mRNA jabs and lockdowns, despite knowing that cheap HCQ and Ivermectin work²⁴.

Nearly 22,000 members of China's communist elite hold secretive offshore companies in British and other tax havens²⁵.

The American hegemon was always presented as "the great champion of democracy and free trade"²⁶.

Key words:

Glatia: This article provides an overview of the manipulations that led to the incorporation of the former Chinese Empire into the global power structure designed by the Global Mafia (or Glafia, i.e. the Predators)¹⁶.

Hegemon: Until the early 1800's, Asia and especially China, was the dominant player in the world economy and technology¹⁷.

Communism: Never forget that communism was also a Glafia project¹⁹.

Proxies: It made all the post-WW2 "newly independent" ex-colonies their dependent proxies, via bought and paid for subordinate elites²⁰.

Triads: The criminal Triads, who had a role akin to Freemasons in the West, have Party, together forming a "Glasia-subordinate gangster elite"²⁴....

5.

EN — LARRY ROMANOFF: China's Electric Vehicles (EVs).pdf

[<https://www.bluemoonofshanghai.com/>]

Key Takeaways:

China's auto industry has evolved from stale designs in the early 1990s to outstanding quality today²⁷.

China has more high-speed rail track and trains than the rest of the world combined²⁸.

The Western media criticizes China's EV makers for overcapacity and disrupting international trade²⁹.

Elon Musk initially denigrated BYD but later recognized them as the largest EV manufacturer³⁰.

Baidu is manufacturing EVs with detachable steering wheels, awaiting approval for fully autonomous operation³¹....

BYD has surpassed all manufacturers, including Tesla, in appearance, quality, and price³³.

In 2022, BYD ceased production of internal combustion engine models to focus on electric and hybrid vehicles³³.

MG-Rover was purchased by Shanghai Automotive (SAIC) and Nanjing Motors, now consolidated under SAIC³⁴.

Geely owns Volvo and has merged some operations³⁵.

Apple's EV project failed despite significant investment³⁶....

Tesla's sales in China and Europe have dropped, while BYD is thriving³⁸.

BYD is offering free driver assistance tech on cars under $10,000³⁹.

BYD's autonomous driving systems may be superior to Tesla's⁴⁰.

BYD has a large R&D staff, with over 110,000 engineers⁴¹.

Key words:

Electric Vehicles (EVs): China has rapidly evolved to a global leader in electric vehicles (EVs)²⁹.

Overcapacity: The Western media have been lambasting China's EV makers for their "overcapacity"²⁹.

Autonomous Driving: Part of the attraction, and the supposed synergy, is that Baidu owns many related core technologies, including its Apollo autonomous driving system³¹.

R&D: BYD's total workforce exceeded 900,000 at the beginning of 2025, and more than 110,000 of that number was engineers engaged in R&D, making it the automaker with the largest R&D staff in the world⁴¹.

BYD: BYD is China's largest EV manufacturer, and has surpassed all the long- established manufacturers in terms of appearance, quality and price³³.

Guilt by Association for Elon Musk's DOGE, by Ron Unz - The Unz Review.pdf

[<https://unz.com/>]

Key Takeaways:

Elon Musk's Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE) cut the 10,000 person staff by 97%⁴².

Gavin Kliger, a senior advisor to the Office of Personnel Management, has been a prominent DOGE investigator⁴².

Kliger credited Ron Unz's essay "Our American Pravda" with beginning his "political awakening"⁴³....

Mother Jones attacked Kliger using "guilt by association," focusing on controversial pieces written by Unz⁴⁵.

Unz argues the attack against Kliger was unfair and highlights the absurdity of guilt by association⁴⁶.

Unz's 2012 article "The Myth of American Meritocracy" was ranked as one of the best magazine articles of the year and documented biases in elite college admissions⁴⁷.

Unz's findings included evidence of Asian Quotas in Ivy League admissions⁴⁸.

The ADL criticized Unz for relying on the writings of Israel Shahak and Ariel Toaff⁴⁹....

The ADL was founded with the goal of preventing a Jewish rapist and killer from being held legally accountable⁵¹.

Unz's research was an important factor in sparking the lawsuit against Harvard University for racial discrimination⁵².

The ADL has been reluctant to challenge Unz due to the potential consequences of drawing attention to his information⁵³.

Unz believes the media avoided mentioning his involvement in the Harvard lawsuit to avoid derailing the case against Affirmative Action⁵⁴.

Key words:

DOGE: One of the more prominent DOGE investigators has been 25-year-old Gavin Kliger, a 2020 graduate of UC Berkeley with degrees in Electrical Engineering and Computer Science, who has been named a senior advisor to the Office of Personnel Management⁴².

Guilt by Association: "Guilt by association" is a common media tactic employed to discredit political opponents⁴⁵.

American Pravda: In a since-deleted Substack post, an engineer working for Elon Musk's so-called Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE) wrote about his radicalization, noting a key influence was an essay by Ron Unz⁴³.

Affirmative Action: For obvious reasons, I avoided mentioning any of these ideas as the case proceeded forward, but with the Supreme Court ruling about to be announced in June 2023, I finally broke my silence by publishing an article that raised this issue and framed it using a bold political analogy⁵⁵.

ADL: Yet strangely enough, months of my writing and the very considerable readership it attracted had failed to draw any such response⁵⁶.

Has President Trump Agreed To Vaccinate Chickens for Bird Flu_ - LewRockwell.pdf

[<https://www.lewrockwell.com/2025/02/ginny-garner/has-president-trump-agreed-to-vaccinate-chickens-for-bird-flu/>]

Key Takeaways:

There is no definitive evidence that President Trump has authorized the vaccination of chickens to fight bird flu as of February 22, 2025⁵⁷.

The Trump administration is working on a plan that emphasizes "biosecurity and medication" rather than mass depopulation⁵⁸.

The USDA granted conditional approval to Zoetis to use its avian flu vaccine in poultry⁵⁹.

The US has historically avoided vaccinating chickens due to trade restrictions and challenges in detecting the virus in vaccinated birds⁵⁹.

Vaccination is an option under review, but potential trade disruptions are being considered⁶⁰.

Key words:

Bird Flu: I asked Grok3, the AI tool now being beta tested on X, if President Trump has authorized the vaccination of chickens to fight bird flu⁵⁷.

Vaccination: A significant step toward vaccination occurred on February 14, 2025, when the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) granted conditional approval to Zoetis, an animal healthcare company, to use its avian flu vaccine in poultry⁵⁹.

Biosecurity: The administration is working on a plan that emphasizes "biosecurity and medication" rather than mass depopulation⁵⁸.

USDA: A significant step toward vaccination occurred on February 14, 2025, when the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) granted conditional approval to Zoetis, an animal healthcare company, to use its avian flu vaccine in poultry⁵⁹.

The Tax Benefits of Self-Employment - LewRockwell.pdf

[<https://www.lewrockwell.com/2025/02/charles-hugh-smith/the-tax-benefits-of-self-employment/>]

Key Takeaways:

Lowering one's tax burden is not the primary reason to pursue self-employment, but it is worth understanding⁷⁹.

The simplified form for wage earners offers few deductions or tax breaks⁸⁰.

Self-employment allows for deductions of business expenses such as mileage⁸¹.

The Qualified Business Income Deduction is available to most sole proprietor enterprises⁸².

If you have a dedicated home office, the costs of that percentage of your house can be deducted as an expense⁸².

Key words:

Self-Employment: Lowering one's tax burden is not the reason to pursue self-employment, but it is something worth understanding if you're exploring self-employment⁷⁹.

Tax burden: Lowering one's tax burden is not the reason to pursue self-employment, but it is something worth understanding if you're exploring self-employment⁷⁹.

Briefing Document: Analysis of Provided Sources

Overall Themes:

- Geopolitical Shifts & The Role of Major Powers: Many sources focus on the changing global landscape, particularly concerning the roles of the US, China, Russia, and the UK. There is a sense of a decline in US hegemony and the rise of a multipolar world, along with associated conflicts and realignments.
- Economic Concerns & Financial Manipulation: Several sources express deep concerns about economic instability, inflation, debt, and potential financial manipulation by global elites and central banks. The rise of digital currencies and their potential for both control and land grabs are also highlighted.
- Technological Transformation & Control: The rapid development of new technologies, such as AI, electric vehicles, and maritime drones, is examined both for its potential benefits and for its risks of increased surveillance, control, and warfare.
- Political Corruption & Manipulation: A pervasive theme is the belief that political systems are deeply corrupt, manipulated by powerful individuals and groups, and that mainstream narratives are often false or misleading.
- Cultural & Ideological Conflict: The sources touch on various cultural and ideological conflicts, including those related to free speech, identity politics, and the influence of specific religious or ideological groups.

Detailed Analysis by Source:

1. "Bipartisan Coalition Finally Tells Europe, and the FBI, To Shove It - LewRockwell.pdf"

- Main Idea: This article discusses concerns over government surveillance powers, particularly those acquired by the UK and potentially sought by the US FBI.
- Key Points: British law grants extensive surveillance capabilities with warrants. "That was a game-over moment."
- Examples are given of UK authorities requesting data from Twitter on seemingly trivial matters (e.g., soccer fans).
- US Attorney General William Barr expressed a desire for similar powers to those held by the UK.
- Fear that US authorities were trying to use the excuse of cybersecurity to expand their own powers.

2. "Britain is heading for a deep, long recession – The Expose.pdf"

- Main Idea: This piece expresses a pessimistic outlook on the UK's economic future, arguing that it is in decline.
- Key Points: Criticism of government spending and decision-making.
- Comparison of the UK to the US, finding the UK poorer per head than all 50 states.
- Cynical tone and questioning of political figures.

3. "By Drones, Mines and Missiles - The British Naval War Against Russia in Ukraine - LewRockwell.pdf"

- Main Idea: The article accuses the UK of being a major participant in a proxy war against Russia in Ukraine, using drones, missiles, and other naval warfare tactics.
- Key Points: UK is accused of directing drone and missile attacks against Russian targets in the Black Sea, including the Kerch Bridge.
- British intelligence is said to be behind a network targeting Russian shipping.
- Claims that Russia successfully identified and disrupted the British-run Black Sea Attack Network (BSAN).
- Accusation that the UK is involved in a new campaign of attaching limpet mines to ships that have visited Russian ports.
- Discussion of new British naval drones being developed for use in Ukraine.

4. "China_ From real Tao to Mao, and then to multipolar fake Tao.pdf"

- Main Idea: This source presents a historical narrative of China's interactions with the West, arguing that China has been consistently targeted for subjugation by Western powers, and that communism was a Western project to contain China. It expresses skepticism about the proposed multipolar world order led by China and Russia.
- Key Points: Claims that Western powers, particularly Britain and the US, have sought to control China for centuries.
- Argues that communism was used to suppress China. "China had to be suppressed, by placing it in the 'communist fridge', under Mao Zedong, together with Russia (which had been in the communist fridge since the 1917 Revolution). Never forget that communism was also a Glafia project!"
- Cites Antony Sutton's predictions about the role of American corporations in China's development.

- Expresses skepticism that a multipolar world order led by China and Russia will bring global peace and freedom.
- Claims that Western bankers still control the global financial system, limiting China's autonomy. "As long as Glafia's bankers stay in charge of our money system, there will be no 'autonomous' China, nor any other 'self-reliant' countries or regions, or a 'sustainable' world, or a 'free' world."

5. "EN — LARRY ROMANOFF_ China's Electric Vehicles (EVs).pdf"

- Main Idea: This article promotes China's advancements in the electric vehicle (EV) industry, refuting Western media claims of overcapacity and a desire to dominate the world.
- Key Points: Argues that China's EV industry is high-quality and innovative. "China has rapidly evolved to a global leader in electric vehicles (EVs)."
- Claims that Western media criticisms of China's EV overcapacity are unfair and biased.
- Highlights the success of Chinese EV manufacturers like BYD, Huawei, and Xiaomi.
- Compares Chinese autonomous driving systems favorably to those of Tesla.

6. "Guilt by Association for Elon Musk's DOGE, by Ron Unz - The Unz Review.pdf"

- Main Idea: The article alludes to the importance of controlling narratives and information.
- Key Points: Importance of independent voices.
- Mentions the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) and its historical role. "The ADL was founded just over a century ago with the central goal of preventing a Jewish rapist and killer from being held legally accountable for his crimes, and over the decades, it eventually metastasized into a secret political police..."

7. "Has President Trump Agreed To Vaccinate Chickens for Bird Flu_ - LewRockwell.pdf"

- Main Idea: This is a fact-checking article addressing the claim that President Trump has authorized the vaccination of chickens for bird flu.
- Key Points: Reports that the Trump administration has a plan for poultry vaccination against avian flu.
- Notes that the USDA granted conditional approval to a drug company for this purpose.

8. "Kash Patel Banishes 1,500 FBI Agents from Washington - LewRockwell.pdf"

- Main Idea: Expresses concern about the reassignment of FBI agents from Washington, D.C.
- Key Points: Urges Kash Patel to keep the agents out of red states, fearing they will target conservatives.
- Accuses the FBI of being the Democrats' "secret police."
- Raises historical concerns about FBI misconduct and entrapment.

9. "Makow: Political and Social Commentary on Global Issues"

- Main Idea: A collection of various political and social commentaries, often presenting controversial viewpoints.
- Key Points: Criticism of mainstream narratives and figures.
- Concerns about financial corruption, debt, and crypto currencies.

- Accusations against certain religious or ideological groups.
- Claims about elite manipulation and hidden agendas.
- Mentions the World Economic Forum's (WEF) agenda and transhumanism.

10. "Thank You, DOGE! - LewRockwell.pdf"

- Main Idea: Discusses the role of debt and interest rates in the economy.
- Key Points: Argues that low interest rates encourage borrowing and consumption.
- Suggests that politicians are afraid to raise interest rates because it would cause a recession.
- Suggests DOGE is helpful for exposing the corruption in the government.

11. "The Sea Change, by Israel Shamir - The Unz Review.pdf"

- Main Idea: This article presents a hopeful view of a global shift in power, led by Donald Trump, Elon Musk, and JD Vance, moving away from potential doom.
- Key Points: Belief that Trump, Musk, and Vance are steering the world away from disaster.
- Optimism about improved relations between the US and Russia.
- Criticism of Western media outlets and their negative portrayals of Trump and Russia.
- Accusations that anti-Putin organizations are largely financed and staffed by Jewish individuals.
- Hope that Putin's goals related to NATO expansion will be achieved.

12. "The Tax Benefits of Self-Employment - LewRockwell.pdf"

- Main Idea: This is a straightforward guide to the tax benefits available to self-employed individuals.
- Key Points: Explains how to deduct business expenses.
- Highlights the flexibility and wiggle-room in expense deductions.

13. "Trump Administration_ Digital Control Grid Coming Together at High Speed - LewRockwell.pdf"

Quiz Answer Key

- Twitter executives had to explain to the British police that some users were black themselves, and tweets like “RAHEEM STERLING IS DAT NIGGA” were not necessarily hateful conduct. The author states that the fact that British police needed American executives to interpret sports slang is a “horror movie in itself.”
- The Black Sea Attack Network (BSAN) is a network that was pushing the Russian fleet out of Sevastopol in Crimea. Britain is suspected of directing the BSAN to push the Russian fleet out of Sevastopol in Crimea.
- The British government's money tsar is the Chairman of the office for Value for Money. He is paid £50,000 a year to work one day a week.
- “Glaflia” is described as the hidden driving force behind world history in the last 500 years, placing China on its list of Eurasian empires to be “normalized”. It also apparently had a hand in Japan's corruption.
- Western media accuses China's EV makers of “overcapacity” and “flooding the world” with inexpensive EVs. The reason given is that this disrupts global markets and hurts local industries in Europe and the US, driven by government subsidies and incentives.
- BYD is China's largest EV manufacturer, and has surpassed long-established manufacturers in terms of appearance, quality, and price and has also surpassed Tesla. In 2022, BYD made the decision to focus on all-electric and hybrid models.
- “God's Eye” is a highly advanced driver-assistance (autonomous) system available in automobiles. BYD developed the system in-house with entirely Chinese IP.
- From control of narrative, Ron Unz states, derives the important consequences which “allows murderers to be transmuted into martyrs and villains into heroes.”
- According to one of the provided sources, Musk is operating as the titular “Doge” in the Venetian sense. He and his team—and whatever private companies and foreign governments are now sharing those data—have replaced the Executive Branch and Congress in terms of control and operation of the fiscal side of government.
- According to one source, Peter (likely Peter Schiff) should be commended for exposing the character of most politicians and elites through his analysis of monetary policy and debt.
